Hampton Players to Open 'Old Acquaintance' Friday

Hampton Players production of "Old Acquaintance" will open tomorrow night at the Hampton Theater, 100 Wall St., Redondo Beach. Although several nights have been sold to area organizations, tickets for the five-week run are available for the Friday and Saturday performances. A cast of popular Hampton Players have been assembled by Director Bob Farnsworth for the production. It includes several newcomers from radio and television performances.

due has built two attractive sets for the stage which will create a handsome backdrop for the sophisticated comedy of John Van Druten. Pat Rogers, making her first stage appearance after several years absence, and Edna Purdue, local favorites, head the cast. IN THE MALE lead is Wayne Ward, last seen on television in the "Tunnel of Love," a Playhouse 90 production. Purdue, in addition to providing the sets, does double duty in the show by appearing in a key role.
